II. PROJECT OVERVIEW

A. Purpose

The purpose of the project is to develop a community supported Greenways, Trails, and Open Space Master Plan (hereafter referred to as the Greenways Plan) for Wyoming County. The Greenways Plan will guide policy development, delivery of County services, prioritize demands and opportunities, and generate a strategic action plan. It will be rooted in all-inclusive public engagement and will seek to incorporate green stormwater infrastructure, energy efficiency strategies, accessibility, cost effective improvements and maintenance strategies, and environmental remediation opportunities.

B. Background

Wyoming County is located in the Endless Mountains Region of Pennsylvania. The County is part of the “Endless Mountains” tourism region, the “Northern Tier” administrative region, the Endless Mountains Heritage Region and the Route 6 Alliance. The population of the 405 square mile County is approximately 27,587. Wyoming County is adjacent to Lackawanna County to the east, Luzerne County to the South, Sullivan County to the west, Bradford County to the Northwest and Susquehanna County to the North.

Wyoming County itself has only the Iroquois Trail as a recreational resource, but the county as a whole has numerous municipal and non-profit organization recreational resources as well as State Game Lands 57. Wyoming County does not have any county or state owned parks within its boundary. Game Lands 57 accounts for 15% of the land area and is located in the southwest corner of the county. The other recreational areas in the county consist of municipal parks and nature preserves. The Susquehanna River and other waterways provide aquatic recreational opportunities.

The Northern Tier Open Space, Greenway & Outdoor Recreation Plan was completed in 2010 and has several recommendations for Wyoming County. This Plan is the basis for this County Greenways, Trails & Open Space Plan. Other planning initiatives have taken place, including an updated comprehensive plan and multiple municipal zoning ordinance updates.

Based on the planning initiatives over the past fifteen years, there is a desire for enhanced connectivity between public spaces, and provision of safe, secure, outdoor attractions where County residents will want to congregate.

Existing plans and related initiatives will be used as the foundation for this plan to develop a coordinated, consistent approach. Some of the supporting documents for consultant firms to review and consider are listed below. Digital copies of these plans are available on the County’s website and by request.

- Wyoming County Comprehensive Plan

C. Project Objectives

1. Build upon existing County and regional plans. Minimize new data collection by using existing materials. Focus on communication, strategizing and plan formulation.
2. Conduct a planning process with vigorous public involvement.
3. Conduct a broad-based recreational needs assessment that includes the general citizenry, organized community groups, government, and the private sector.
4. Inventory current park facilities and evaluate the current life cycle status of amenities to identify opportunities to improve health of all residents through dedicated exercise areas.
5. Identify the strengths, challenges and opportunities of existing parks and recreation facilities. Identify the natural/passive vs. programmed recreational space.
6. Identify opportunities for expanding recreation and/or open space on vacant and distressed, or currently undeveloped lands.
7. Develop clear community goals for the recreational system that incorporate: improvements to public safety and security, streamlining future maintenance requirements, public art installations, enriching park aesthetics, and incorporating 'green' design principles.
8. Develop strategies for merging the parks, recreation, trails, and open space recommendations with natural resource conservation, green stormwater infrastructure, energy efficiency methods, accessibility, and environmental remediation opportunities.
9. Develop recommendations to meet the recreational needs of all ages, interests and abilities, year round.
10. Create a conceptual green network plan that proposes opportunities to improve access and usage of parks and greater connectivity among neighborhoods and local and regional parks, trails, open space, public facilities, and the riverfront.

11. Create an action plan which achieves the recommendations, maximizes limited financial resources and staff, identifies partnership opportunities, and positions the County and Municipalities for available implementation funding from public and private sources.
12. Develop an official document that, in part, guides County and Municipal policy and decisions regarding land use.

D. Project Team

The consultant for this project will work with Wyoming County Office of Community Planning, the Wyoming County Commissioners, Municipal Officials and other interested parties, along with a steering committee. The Wyoming County Office of Community Planning will provide project oversight.

The consultant will be responsible for meeting preparation, and outreach materials. It is anticipated that the consultant will prepare and distribute a community survey, conduct a series of neighborhood forums, and lead at least three general public meetings. The first general public meeting will be held early in the process for the purpose of determining issues, ideas, concerns and suggestions regarding parks, trails, open space, and recreation and will be conducted as an interactive workshop. The second general public meeting, also conducted as an interactive workshop, will be held after conclusions and options are drawn and when recommendations are being formulated to obtain community feedback about possible actions for the five to ten year plan. A third general public meeting will occur to review the draft plan and communicate to the public how their input influenced the decisions.

E. Advisory Committee

An Advisory Committee will be put together by the Wyoming County Office of Community Planning to guide the project. The consultant should plan on meeting with the Advisory Committee at least three times during the planning process. The Planning Office will co-lead these meetings with the project consultant and provide meeting minutes.

III. PROJECT SCOPE OF WORK

A. Scope of Work

The scope of work should satisfy the County's objectives stated above and meet the expectations of the Comprehensive Recreation, Park, and Open Space Plan guidelines established by the Bureau of Recreation and Conservation under Pennsylvania's Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR). A final scope of work will be developed by the County and the respondent submitting the selected proposal ("The Project Consultant") following selection.

In addition to plan development, the consultant is expected to attend a project kickoff meeting with the County, at least three (3) advisory committee meetings, and at least three public meetings. The consultant should provide in their proposal a strategic approach to working with the Project Team.

B. Expected Deliverables

1. The consultant will attend and participate at Advisory Committee meetings and at least three public participation meetings.
2. The County will promote the public participation meetings.
3. PEC will develop a draft public participation report for review.
4. The consultant will produce park profiles that will include written and graphically depicted inventory and assessment of existing recreation and open space resources, facilities, programs and services, management and organization, and financing.
5. The consultant will produce conceptually illustrative master plans that create a framework for a citywide greenway system, improved public access to the Susquehanna River, and improved public space interconnection across the County.
6. The consultant will develop a strategic action plan with implementable recommendations for open space, greenways, trails, parks, recreation facilities, programs and services, management and organization, financing.
7. The consultant will develop a draft report for review.
8. A graphically rich final report in digital (PDF) and print (8 copies) format.

C. Anticipated Schedule

Wyoming County anticipates a 12 month process to complete the final plan.

D. Budget

This project is being made possible by a grant from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Department of Conservation and Natural Resources.
